

ABSTRACT

COMPOSITIONS AND METHODS FOR REPORTING OF PROTEASE ACTIVITY WITHIN THE SECRETORY PATHWAY

The present invention provides chimeric polypeptides and nucleic acids encoding the chimeric polypeptides and methods for using the same to detect and measure protease activity. It further provides in vivo and in vitro methods for identifying modulators of protease activity, e.g., by high throughput assays.